The Life of a Living Sacrifice

Romans 12:1-2

After original sin, all creation must live by the covenant. This is because no one can overcome or resolve original sin. This is the eternal truth and this should lie at the very foundation of your life. This is a principle that you must always remember and live by, checking it whenever something happens in life. Therefore, there is nothing to be concerned about. Only when God's covenant is fulfilled, will everything come to an end. Whatever happens in the world doesn't matter. It will all take place once the covenant is fulfilled, so there is no reason to fight or rely on something else. Just focus on helping and saving to the best of your abilities. This is the path that is most beneficial for you and the one where you can be the most successful. This is the eternal will of God and for this kind of life, Christ came. If you live holding to the covenant you can receive similar answers like from the Bible and live a life like the evangelists in the Bible. You will live a life of a masterpiece that saves the world and conquers all of Satan. May this be a time to imprint the covenant once again. If your imprint changes naturally your root and nature will also change.

1. The life a living sacrifice

- 1) "When I didn't really know the Gospel, these words felt distant from me. Immediately, the thought that it was impossible continuously came to me. However, now many things have changed. This is because I now know what all-in and Only means. As I received many answers and witnessed God's evidence in the field, I gained a lot of confidence that I could offer my entire life as a living sacrifice to God." Pastor Jang's testimony.
- 2) You already know of thanksgiving, happiness, and rightfulness. There are probably many people who have decided to live their life in this way.
- 3) It is not difficult, it is not distant, and it is not impossible. You can do it if your heart changes and if you have faith that you possess the answer you can do it. Those who have witnessed God's evidence in the field as God promised, will have confidence.
- 4) It is the greatest blessing and power to give your life as a living sacrifice to God. No one can overcome this person. No type of environment can break God's plan for this person.
- 5) Who can block the path Moses takes? Who can change Apostle Paul's life? Though the early church was so weak, nothing could influence them and they continuously carried on as the early church.
- 6) Your life will be the same if you have this covenant and will. The time will come in your life if you are continuously enjoying the covenant, following the Word that God gives you, and allowing the Word to enter into your life. There will come a time when you will be grateful when your heart opens and decides your will.
- 7) Becoming a living sacrifice does not start with actions. The actions are the result. Your heart must change first and you need to be inside of the spiritual time schedule. You must enjoy the Gospel, hold God's Word as your covenant, and your heart must connect with God.
- 8) Then, anyone can live the life of a living sacrifice. You will live a life that enjoys the authority of the living sacrifice and sacrificial offering. Therefore, those that live the life of a living sacrifice will live the life that is promised inside of Christ. Anyone inside of the Gospel can live this life and those that enjoy the Word inside of the Gospel will have a higher chance of living this life.
- 9) Efforts and resolutions come as a blessing to you after God's grace comes upon you. May you receive this tremendous blessing and the authority as you live the life of the living sacrifice. May you begin your life of prayer and worship as you enjoy the covenant.

2. The answer is already given

- 1) The answer is already given and that is all there is. Therefore you must know how much of this mystery that enjoys this answer there is. This is why you need deep prayer, a time of quietness, and peace. The answer is already given and that is the eternal, unchanging covenant.
- 2) God is fulfilling this covenant even now for it is the history of this world. Amongst this big world and universe, your life's history is included as well. The bartizan is the covenant and fundamental, the journey is the application of your life, and the guide post is the level and direction that you must live towards.
- 3) These are the contents that the Lord has already completed through His Word and works. He fulfilled it through the leading of the Holy Spirit who sits on the right hand of God and He is fulfilling it now.
- 4) What is left is whether or not you receive this as your answer. The life of one who receives this answer will transcend the world. Those who transcend are those who conquer. Your life will be a life in which you overcome all things without needing to fight nor speak.
- 5) This will come upon you when you simply receive Christ as your answer and deeply enjoy this. You will live this life when God's desire becomes your reason and you give your life as a living sacrifice for this.
- 6) The bartizan, journey, and guide post are answers that embodies Christ. It is the answer of how you must pray holding onto Christ, of how you must utilize Christ in your life, and of how and where your life will be led when you hold onto Christ as your covenant.
- 7) This is the answer that has been placed in your hands. This answer is absolute for those that live accordingly and will never fail. You will surely conquer, transcend, and save others. This is the only way for you to live this life of a masterpiece. This is a proven fact starting from Adam and the entire history of mankind.
- 8) The answer is in your hands! May you never forget and be filled by His grace as you grow happier in living a life that conquers, enjoys, and has victory. At first, the answer may not seem so sure or might not be as definite, but it was like that for Abraham as well.
- 9) There was no Word as to how or where Abraham must go, however He commanded him to arise first for He will show and lead him one by one when the time comes. As Abraham lived, he was able to realize everything and it became more definite to himself. He was given a son at 100 years old. He opened his eyes completely and received the complete answer after the incident of the sacrificial offering recorded in Genesis 22.
- 10) It is the same for your life. God is unchanging and He holds the guide post that no one can touch. Everyone has their own guide post. God knows the number of total hairs that you have. In God's perspective, your life is of good meaning, of fate. The best life is to simply follow this.
- 11) Then, a masterpiece will surely result from this. If you leave mankind to live, they will experience life at their own level and by their own thoughts. You will never be able to transcend at this level. Therefore, God gave you the answer.
- 12) You must look back at and renew yourself as you enjoy the covenant and find the path that you must follow. Then you must first change the stream of your own self. How would you be able to change the stream of someone else or the stream of the culture of the world if you do not have experience in changing the stream of your own life?
- 13) The answer is already given and it has been placed in your hands. May your spiritual eyes be opened and receive answers as you hold onto the covenant. May you receive the blessing of restoring your life, children, health, and finances to the ends of the earth.
